DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Watanabe et al (US 5,543,607). Watanabe discloses a self-checkout system having a conveyor (51) with sensors (52a) that cause the belt of the conveyor to start transporting the items forward and past a scanner (53) and then sensors (52b) that cause the belt to stop upon sensing the item. Also, if the scanner cannot read the bar code on the item, the belt is stopped.

Note that the operator/purchaser is in effect "sensed" when he/she places an item onto the conveyor belt.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Watanabe in view of Begum et al (US 5,420,606).

Watanabe discloses a self-checkout system having a conveyor (51) with sensors (52a) that cause the belt of the conveyor to start transporting the items forward and past a scanner (53) and then sensors (52b) that cause the belt to stop upon sensing the item. Also, if the scanner cannot read the bar code on the item, the belt is stopped.

Watanabe does not expressly disclose, but Begum discloses the use of a motion sensor to sense motion of a customer and "wake up" or deactivate a device. See Begum, col. 6, lines 11-17, which discuss use of motion detector (62) to detect a shopper. Begum in col. 6, lines 35-38 disclose mounting such a motion detector (70) on a checkout counter (41).

The suggestion/motivation would have been to "conserve power" by turning off the conveyor belt when it is not needed. See Begum, col. 6, lines 11-17.
